BALLOT
NUMBER

Software developer · 8+ years across multinationals, much of it in banking technology · Mechanical engineering, PES University; Executive MBA, IIM Calcutta

At PFC with his family since 2021, and born and brought up in Bengaluru. A mechanical engineering graduate of PES University who has spent his career as a software developer across a couple of multinationals, much of it in banking technology — which is where his grasp of both the financial process and the systems that carry it comes from. He has since added an Executive MBA from IIM Calcutta. What he would want to work on is the plumbing rather than the headline: operational efficiency, more transparency, governance practices that are written down and followed the same way every time, and more residents taking part.
